Q: What does it mean for Camp Blanding to be a Level 2 facility and why does it currently not meet those standards?

- The National Guard ranks each of its facilities as Level 1-5 Training Centers (Level 1 being the highest standard) based on the types of training and facilities utilized at each location. Most of Florida's existing facilities are categorized between Level 5 and Level 3. Camp Blanding is currently the only location categorized as a Level 2 facility, meaning it supports simultaneous training for 5,000 to 11,999 guardsmen. - Due to the lack of service members during major disasters, the Florida National Guard has required assistance on multiple occasions from other states through the Emergency Management Assistance Compact.
