Gas Prices Rise 12 Cents

Florida gas prices are declining again after abruptly rising 12 cents early last week. The state average went from $2.84 per gallon on Monday, up to $2.96/g on Wednesday. By Sunday, the state average was back down to $2.92 per gallon, which is:

- 6.5 cents more than a week ago
- 5 cents less than last month
- 21 cents less than this time last year

"Florida gas prices continue fluctuating on a weekly basis," said Mark Jenkins, spokesman for AAA - The Auto Club Group. "Last week, the state average rebounded after dropping 13 cents in 9 days. Fortunately, pump prices remain on the low end of what drivers have paid this year."

So far this year, the state average has bounced between $2.84 and $3.23 per gallon. The autumn fuel-demand dip, global oil oversupply, and switch to winter-blend gasoline have contributed to the discount at the pump. The U.S. price of crude settled at $60.09/b on Friday. That's $7 per barrel less than this time last year.
